

நமது பழம் ₹5 அவர்களின் பாட்டில் ₹80

OUR FRUIT LEAVES AT ₹5 A KILO.
It comes back to us in a bottle.

₹4-5 / kg

Value multiplied

● மதிப்புக் கூட்டல் நடப்பது வெளியில். லாபமும் அங்கேயே.

The fruit is grown here, and the value is added somewhere else. Every step that turns fruit into a branded product — pulping, concentrating, bottling, labelling, marketing — is a step where money is earned. We currently do only the first one.

● ஏற்றுமதி விலை நமக்குத் தெரிவதில்லை

Totapuri pulp is reported to export at roughly US$720-950 a tonne. Converted to fruit equivalent that is many times the farm-gate price. The gap is not all profit — processing, freight and certification are real costs — but the grower's share of it is the smallest, and it shrinks most in the years the total is smallest.

● கேள்வி எளிது: இதை நாமே ஏன் செய்யக்கூடாது?

The question this poster asks is simple. If the fruit is ours, the land is ours and the knowledge is ours, why is the profitable part of the chain not ours as well?

மூலப்பொருள் ஏற்றுமதி செய்தால் வேலையும் ஏற்றுமதியாகிறது.

When we export raw material, we export the jobs with it.

● இப்போது நாம் செய்வது ஒன்றே ஒன்று — மொத்த கூழ்

The belt makes bulk aseptic pulp, sold to a small number of industrial buyers in a small number of export markets. When that one market contracts, as it did, the whole belt has nowhere to go.

● ஒவ்வொரு பொருளுக்கும் வேறு வாங்குபவர், வேறு காலம்

Concentrate ships lighter. Dried fruit keeps for a year and decouples selling from harvesting entirely. Frozen product reaches retail and food service. Each has a different buyer, a different shelf life and a different price cycle.

● வீணாவதும் வருமானமாகும்

Even the peel and the kernel have established uses — pectin, feed, fat extraction. What is today a disposal cost becomes a revenue line.

● இது சராசரி விலையை உயர்த்தாது. ஏற்ற இறக்கத்தைக் குறைக்கும்.

Diversification will not raise the average price. It reduces the variance — and variance is what is destroying incomes here.

ஒரே வாங்குபவர், ஒரே சந்தை — அதுவே ஆபத்து.

One product sold to one kind of buyer in a few countries is not an industry. It is an exposure.

பெயர் சொல்லத் தெரிந்த பொருட்களால் செய்த உணவு

FOOD MADE FROM THINGS YOU CAN NAME.
Grown here. Made here. Eaten here.

Long

Made far away

Fruit. Sugar. That is all.

● மேற்கத்திய உணவு எதிரி அல்ல. நமது உணவு வளர்க்கப்படவில்லை என்பதே பிரச்சனை.

The argument here is not against anyone else's food. It is that a district growing lakhs of tonnes of fruit should be able to offer its own people a good product made from it — and today it largely cannot, because the fruit leaves as raw material.

● உண்மையான பழத்தின் அளவை லேபிளில் எழுதுங்கள்

Ask for one honest thing: real fruit content printed clearly on the label. A product with a high share of actual fruit and modest added sugar can compete on truth. Let buyers see what they are getting and choose.

● உலர்ந்த பழம், உறைந்த பழம் — சர்க்கரை சேர்க்காமல்

Not everything has to be a sweet drink. Dried slices, frozen cubes and fruit bars can be made with little or no added sugar. These are the products worth building for our own market, not only for export.

● பள்ளி, மருத்துவமனை, அரசு உணவகங்களில் நமது பொருள்

The processors' own federation has proposed mango juice in the mid-day meal programme. Institutional demand — schools, anganwadis, hospitals, public canteens — would create steady offtake that helps the grower and the processor at the same time. It deserves a proper costed study, including on sugar content and nutrition.

நமது மண்ணில் விளைந்தது. நமது ஊரில் செய்யப்பட்டது. நமது மக்கள் உண்பது.

Grown in our soil, processed in our town, eaten by our people — and the money stays in all three places.

தொழிற்சாலை மட்டும் போதாது முழு சங்கிலி வேண்டும்

A FACTORY ALONE IS NOT AN INDUSTRY.
The whole chain has to exist.

Orchard Collection + cold Processing park Testing lab Cargo + export

● அரசு ஏற்கனவே ஐந்து பூங்காக்களை முன்மொழிந்துள்ளது

The Vision document proposes five integrated mango processing parks across Dharmapuri and Krishnagiri, with cold storage, pulp manufacturing, export facilitation and cargo links to Chennai and Bengaluru airports. This is the right direction and should be supported.

● ஆனால் விவசாயி விற்கும் இடம் ஊருக்கு அருகில் இருக்க வேண்டும்

Growers asked for a unit in every block. The practical answer is hub and spoke: five parks as hubs, and block-level collection centres as spokes — far cheaper — where weighment, grading, quality assessment and payment actually happen, close to the orchard.

● பூங்காவில் விவசாயிக்கும் பங்கு வேண்டும்

If the parks are wholly private, the belt gets more capacity and the same bargaining position. A grower equity stake of not less than 26% through an FPO federation turns an industrial scheme into a change in market structure.

● சோதனைக்கூடம் இல்லாமல் ஏற்றுமதி இல்லை

Export buyers require documented food safety compliance, testing and traceability. No small FPO can carry that alone. It must be built once, as shared infrastructure, and used by everyone.

குளிர்பதனம், சோதனை, தரச்சான்று, சரக்கு — இவை இல்லாமல்
தொழிற்சாலை தனியாக நிற்காது.

Cold chain, testing, certification and cargo are not extras. Without them a factory is a building.

வேலை வேண்டும் நேர்காணல் மட்டும் அல்ல

HIRE FOR EXPERIENCE, NOT ONLY FOR INTERVIEWS.

Let young people learn on the line and get paid while they learn.

ஒரு கொத்தில் பல வேலைகள் — விவசாயம் தவிர

A working mango cluster needs line operators, cold-store technicians, quality and laboratory staff, packaging and warehouse workers, logistics and documentation staff, food-safety auditors, maintenance fitters, FPO accountants and managers, and marketing people. None of these requires leaving the district.

சான்றிதழ் இல்லை என்பதற்காக வாய்ப்பு மறுக்கப்படக் கூடாது

Many young people here can do the work but cannot pass a formal interview or produce the right certificate. Apprenticeship-first hiring solves this: take them on, train them on the line, assess them on what they can actually do, and certify them afterwards.

கற்கும் போதே ஊதியம்

Earn-while-you-learn placements, with a stipend and a guaranteed assessment at the end, are already provided for under existing skill and apprenticeship programmes. What is needed is to link them explicitly to the mango cluster and to the Hosur belt.

இது வேளாண் குடும்பங்களை ஊரிலேயே தக்கவைக்கும்

This matters for a reason beyond employment. A young person with a local job can keep the orchard in the family. A young person who must migrate cannot — and the sixty years of husbandry knowledge stops with the father.

தோட்டத்தையும் வைத்துக்கொள்ளலாம். வேலையும் பெறலாம். இரண்டும் ஒன்றுக்கொன்று எதிரி அல்ல.

Local work and keeping the orchard are complementary, not competing. That is the whole point.

எதிர்காலம் தானாக வராது அதைக் கேட்க வேண்டும்

THE FUTURE WILL NOT ARRIVE ON ITS OWN.
These are the six things to ask for.

- 1 · ஒவ்வொரு வட்டத்திலும் சேகரிப்பு மையம்
A block-level collection and primary handling centre, built before the processing parks, so the grower's transaction happens near the orchard.
- 2 · பூங்காக்களில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு 26% பங்கு
Not less than 26% equity for growers, through an FPO federation, in every processing park the state builds or supports.
- 3 · ஒரே பொருள் அல்ல — பல பொருட்கள்
Capital support and technical assistance for concentrate, frozen, dried and retail-ready products, and for peel and kernel use — so the belt is never again dependent on one product in a few markets.
- 4 · பொதுச் சோதனைக்கூடமும் தரச்சான்று உதவியும்
A shared testing laboratory, certification support unit and traceability system, so small producers can reach export standards without carrying the cost alone.
- 5 · பள்ளி, மருத்துவமனை, அரசு உணவகங்களில் நமது பொருட்கள்
A costed feasibility study, then a pilot, for mango products in public nutrition programmes, sourced from belt processors through transparent tender.
- 6 · இளைஞர்களுக்கு பயிற்சி வழி வேலை
Apprenticeship-first hiring in the cluster, with stipends, on-the-job assessment and certification afterwards — linked to the Hosur industrial belt so young people need not migrate.

கட்சி வேறுபாடு இல்லை. இவை எந்த அரசாலும் செய்யக்கூடியவை.

Not one of these is a partisan demand. Any government could deliver all six, and every party is invited to.
